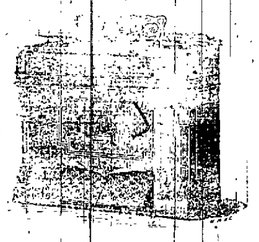
AMERICAN ORGANS

MANUFACTORY,

Tremont, opposite Waltham St.,

BOSTON, MASS.



The most perfect and beautiful Musical Instrument in the world for the American Home Circle.

THE AMERICAN ORGAN makes Home Attractive, and refines and elevates the minds of all. Beautiful in its appearance and effects.

Seventeen---17---First Premiums were awarded to the American Organs IN THE MONTH OF OCTOBER, 1865, over all Competitors, at different State and County Fairs.

First Premium awarded to the American Organs at the Great New York State Agricultural Fair at Rochester, September 1864, over the Whole catalogue exhibited by the most Celebrated Makers.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS are the ONLY REAL REED ORGANS now before the public.—The only Organ having a REVERBERATING SOUND BOX or WIND CHEST—which has the same important part to perform as the Sounding Board has in a Piano Forte (to give body and resonance of tone) and without which the Organ becomes merely a Melodeon in an Organ case. The American Organs not only have the Wind Chest, or Sound-Box but have the large Organ Bellows, giving power and great steadiness of tone. These with their extreme fine voicing of the Reeds and perfecting of the tone, make them the MOST PERFECT ORGAN KNOWN. Then, in fineness of workmanship, finish of action, and case, they excel all others. These great improvements and superiority of tone and workmanship of the AMERICAN ORGANS place them in the first rank as the best, and command a higher price than any other reed instrument in the market. A careful examination of them, in comparison with others, will quickly show their superiority.

Special attention is called to the style of AMERICAN ORGAN, No. 17, containing the Super-Octave Coupler and Sub-Bass. FOR CHURCHES in want of a powerful instrument, whose means are limited, its price renders it very desirable.

EVERY ORGAN IS WARRANTED TO PROVE SATISFACTORY.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS all have the Reverberating Sound-Box, or Wind-Chest, and are finished in the highest style of art, in Rosewood, Jet Walnut, and Oak finish, richly Varnished and Polished, or in Smooth Oil Finish, forming elegant pieces of Furniture for the Parlor or Boudoir; and the Oak and Walnut especially adapted for Churches, Lecture and Lodge Rooms.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS are all finished with our new PATENT improvements, containing the improved Knee Swell, Double Bellows, two Blow Pedals, and TREMOLO found in no other instrument.

NEW STYLES OF CASES.

Richly Finished and Highly Ornamented.

WOMAN!

FEMALES, owing to the peculiar and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organization, and the offices they perform, are subject to many sufferings and ailments peculiar to the sex.—Freedom from these contribute in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and ere long producing permanent sickness and premature decline. Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman so far sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of these troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU

Hundreds suffer on in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to druggists and doctors, who either merely tantalize them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to assert anything that would do injustice to the afflicted, but am obliged to say that although it may be produced from excessive exhaustion of the powers of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air and food, profuse menstruation, the use of tea and coffee, and frequent childbirth, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation, applied to the mucous membrane of the vagina itself.

When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints, it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them. It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health, and happiness of woman in all classes of society and which, consequently, affect, more or less directly, the welfare of the entire human family. The mania that exists for precocious education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early confinement of school, and especial in the unhealthy confinement of the ball-room. Thus, with the body half clothed and the mind unduly excited by pleasure, perverting in midnight revel the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished.

In consequence of this early strain upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When one excitement is over, another in prospective keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impression, while the now constant retraint of fashionable circles, adds unduly for ridding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength; the exposure to night air; the sudden change of temperature; the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing must, of necessity, produce their legitimate effect. At last, an early marriage caps the climax of misery, and the unfortunate one, hitherto so utterly regardless of the plain dictates and remonstrances of her delicate nature, becomes an unwilling subject of medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.

Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs, they require an education of their peculiar nervous system: composed of what is called the tissue, which is, in common with the female breast and lips, evidently under the control of mental emotions and associations at an early period of life; and, as we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive, lead, long before puberty, to habits which sap the very life of their victims ere nature has self-completed their development.

For Female Weakness and Debility, Whites or Leucorrhœa, Too Profuse, Exhausting, Too Long Continued Periods, for Prolapsus and Bearing Down, or Prolapsus Uteri, we offer the most perfect specific known; Helmbold's Compound Extract of Buchu.

Directions for use, diet, and advice accompany.

Females in every period of life, from infancy, to extreme old age, will find it a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions.

Strength is the glory of manhood and womanhood.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

Is more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron, infinitely safer and more pleasant.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

Having received the endorsement of the most prominent Physicians in the United States, is now offered to afflicted humanity as a certain cure for the following diseases and symptoms, from whatever cause originating:

General Debility, Mental and Physical Depression, Imbecility, Determination of Blood to the Head, Confused Ideas, Hysteria, General Irritability, Restlessness and Sleeplessness at Night, Absence of Muscular Efficiency, Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Low Spirits, Disorganization or Paralysis of the Organs of Generation Palpitation of the Heart, and, in fact, all the concomitants of a Nervous and Debilitated state of the system.

☞ To insure the genuine, cut this out.

☞ Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other!

☞ Sold by all Druggists everywhere.

MUTTY'S

Friction Feed Roller,

FOR CIRCULAR SAWS.

PATENTED JANUARY 23d, 1866.

THIS INVENTION is applicable to all Circular Saws provided with stationary tables and used for re-sawing lumber.

It reduces the labor of sawing one half, and fifty per cent. more lumber can be sawed with, than without its use. It is applied without change of existing machinery; is not liable to get out of repair, and not expensive to apply.

It has been in practical use on the Penobscot river for one year, where the above facts have been fully and satisfactorily demonstrated, as is shown by the certificates of master mill-men, machinists, owners and operators of mills appended hereto.

The undersigned have for the past season witnessed the practical use of MUTTY'S FEED ROLLER in re-sawing lumber, and we cheerfully recommend it as a practical, economical, and labor saving invention, destined to come into general use in all cases where lumber is re-sawed upon stationary tables. We are fully satisfied from our own observation that the saving effected, and extra amount cut, by its use, is fully as large as the estimate above given.

The Fenian Scare in Canada—10,000 Troops Ordered from England to Canada.

NEW YORK, March 17.

The World's Montreal despatch says, the Government has received a letter from an official in Windsor, C. W., stating that the mayor of Detroit informed him that he had caused inquiry to be made into the extent of the Fenian movement in that city, and has discovered there was a likelihood of an attack from that point. The Government has also been satisfied that the American Government sent troops to Buffalo to prevent any attack from that quarter.

The Six-Nation Indians, Iroquois, encamped on the Ottawa river, under a descendant of the celebrated Bradit, last evening tendered the services of 1500 braves to the government.

I am informed by an officer of the Royal Engineers that orders were sent to England five weeks ago for 10,000 troops. They will land at Halifax and march from thence to New Brunswick, where the vulnerable point is feared to be.

These troops are expected in ten days, and on their arrival, New Brunswick, it is considered, will be safe.

The ships-of-war Ariadne and Pylades are even now in the Bay of Fundy.

Sir Frederic Bruce has ordered the West India squadron to sail immediately for Halifax, with all the disposable troops in the West Indies.

The excitement here is very much abated.

WASHINGTON, March 17.

The President sent a message to the Senate in answer to a resolution requesting him to communicate any information in relation to alledged kidnapping of colored persons in the Southern States for the purpose of selling them for slaves, &c. The Captain-General of Cuba, and our Consuls at Havana and Matanzas, say there is no truth in the reports. The Consul at Havana says he has no doubt that refugees from New Orleans brought there some of their slaves during the past year. Seven of these have been reclaimed through the Consulate.

The Sec'y of the Treasury has decided that the Canadian Reciprocity Treaty expires at midnight on the 17th inst.

Out of 850 applications, the President yesterday appointed 10 West Point cadets, in accordance with the law empowering the Executive to appoint annually 10 cadets from the country at large.

Senator Foster's continued illness has alarmed his friends, and serious fears are entertained for his recovery.

The defenses of Washington, north of the Potomac, are ordered to be dismantled.

The military district of East Tennessee is abolished.

NEW YORK, March 17.

The weather to-day is very fine.

The Hibernians are assembling in great numbers for a procession, which will move about one o'clock. The streets are thronged with anxious spectators. The utmost good order prevails. It is expected that there will be over 40,000 Irishmen in the procession.

TORONTO, March 17.

It is reported that a U. S revenue cutter is watching the Fenians off Ogdensburg.—Large reinforcements from England are expected shortly. Some regiments of cavalry are among them.

At present there are about 10,000 regulars in Canada, besides 11,000 volunteers on duty. There are at least 15,000 fully armed militia ready to move at a moment's notice, and 80,000 more could soon be made available.

A Proposition from one of the President's Friends.

Dixon sends the following in a despatch to the Boston Advertiser:

WASHINGTON, March 16.

Senator Stewart of Nevada created some sensation to-day by presenting a joint resolution proposing terms of settlement to the South. He is one of the three or four special presidential supporters in the Senate, and the measure receives its significance from that fact, rather than from other considerations. Some persons profess to believe that it is expressive of the Executive opinion, but Mr. Stewart maintains a discreet silence on this point, though he admits that the bill has been read to the President. The joint resolution is as follows:

Whereas, in the present distracted condition of the country, it is eminently proper and necessary that all just and constitutional means should be employed for the quieting of popular excitement, the removal of unreasonable prejudices and the obliteration of all hostile feeling growing out of the late unhappy war; and whereas, one of the most prolific sources of unfriendly sentiment is the conflict of opinion existing on the subject of negro suffrage; and whereas it is now most evident that there is no probability whatever that senators and representatives in Congress, from States whose people were lately in insurrection, will be allowed to occupy the seats to which they have been elected, until said States shall have complied with certain fundamental conditions, a portion of which are hereinafter recited; and whereas, it is unreasonable to expect the re-establishment of harmony and good feeling so long as the eleven Southern States, whose people were recently in insurrection, are prevented from resuming their ancient relations to this government; therefore

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled, That each of said States whose people were lately in insurrection as aforesaid shall be recognized as having fully and validly resumed its former relations with this government, and its chosen representatives shall be admitted into the two houses of the National Legislature, whenever said State shall have so amended its constitution as, first, to do away with all existing distinctions as to civil rights and disabilities among the various classes of its population, by reason either of race, or color, or previous condition of servitude; second, to repudiate all pecuniary indebtedness which said State may have heretofore contracted, incurred or assumed, in connection with the late unnatural and treasonable war; third, to yield all claim to compensation on account of the liberation of its slaves; and, fourth, to provide for the extension of the elective franchise to all persons upon the same terms and conditions, making no discrimination on account of race or color, or previous condition of servitude; provided, that those who were qualified to vote in the year 1860, by the laws of their respective States, shall not be disfranchised by reason of any new tests or conditions which have been or may be prescribed since that year.

Resolved, That after the aforesaid conditions shall have been complied with, and the same shall have been ratified by a majority of the present voting population of the State, including all those qualified to vote under the laws thereof, as they existed in 1860, a general amnesty shall be proclaimed in regard to all persons in such States who were in any way connected with armed opposition to the government of the United States, wholly exonerating them from all pains, penalties or disabilities, to which they may have become liable by reason of their connection with the rebellion.

Resolved, That in view of the importance of the thorough assimilation of the basis of suffrage in the various States of the Union, all States not above aforesaid be respectfully requested to incorporate an amendment in their State Constitutions, respectively corresponding with the above described.

Resolved, That in the adoption of the aforesaid resolutions it is not intended to assert a coercive power on the part of Congress in regard to the regulation of the right of suffrage in the different States of the Union, but only to make a respectful and earnest appeal to their own good sense and love of country, with a view to the prevention of serious evils now threatened, and to the peaceful perfection of the repose, the happiness and true glory of the whole American people.

Mr. Williams asked if he would vote for keeping the Southern representatives out till the proposition was adopted, if it was reported from the joint committee on reconstruction.

Mr. Stewart said that he would vote to adopt the report, and then he would wait and see what would come of it.

Mr. Sumner was glad to see the senator from Nevada bring forward this proposition and he welcomed him with open arms as a convert to negro suffrage. [Laughter.]

Mr. Saulsbury believed the proposition to be one that no State would or ought accede to, and he moved to lay it on the table. The motion was lost without discussion.

Mr. Wilson said he thanked the senator for his proposition, and was rejoiced to find him fairly on the side of freedom, and he would battle with him for universal liberty, universal suffrage and universal amnesty.

Mr. Henderson also expressed his thanks at the position assumed by the Nevada senator. He stated that the President showed him the Sharkey letter in October last, and authorized him to say that he was in favor of suffrage as therein specified. He did so say in a speech he made in that month to his constituents. He could not use the letter, for permission was not given him to do so; but of the fact respecting the President's position he made every use he could, because he was authorized to do so. He could not believe the President had changed his views on the subject, and therefore hoped that hereafter when gentlemen of the opposition denounced the radicals for favoring negro suffrage they would bear in mind that the President also favored it.

Mr. Yates was glad also to find Mr Stewart where these propositions placed him, shoulder to shoulder with the great masses of the loyal men.

The debate was closed, and the resolutions were sent to the reconstruction committee.

It is very evident that to make the above proposition acceptable to the friends of Equal Rights, it should be put in the shape of an amendment to the National Constitution. A former slave State might amend its own Constitution in conformity to the above requisitions, in order to get restored to her former position in the Union—and then turn round and repeal the amendment—and we have no doubt this would be done in almost every case. Our creed is not to trust men who have so recently been in gross rebellion, and who exhib

Reconstruction—What is Needed.

That Congress is sincerely desirous of settling, as speedily as possible, all the difficulties in the way of a permanent reconstruction of the Union, no honest, candid man will for a moment doubt. It suits the malice and vindictiveness of copperhead and rebel papers to assert that the Republican opposition to the President's policy of immediate admission of Southern members upon the simple taking of the test oath, or even the ordinary oath of allegiance, arises from a mere desire of the Republican leaders to hold on to their party power. But this is not so. We believe there was never in the halls of Congress or Parliament a body of men more firmly and patriotically devoted to a great pridciple than the Republican majority of the present Congress. That principle is to uphold a Government of Equal Rights, and they are and ought to be determined that the recent rebel States shall never be allowed to regain their former power in the Union, until that principle is so fully and firmly engrafted upon the national Constitution that no future effort of united rebels and northern democrats can wrench it from the sacred instrument. We must not only provide that none but loyal men get into Congress now, (which can perhaps be done by the test oath) but we must provide against the future. The test oath imposed upon the incoming Southern members may secure the loyalty of the present Congress, and create a reasonable security against repudiation, and against payment of rebel debts by this Congress—but it does not give security for the future. We must have Constitutional guaranties for that, or we shall not be for any long time safe. This well known, that a large majority of the Southern whites, at least of the influential and controlling men, are as bitter in their hatred of the Government as ever, and quite as ready to destroy it in any possible way. The evidence reported by the Reconstruction Committee abundantly proves this—and, also that the manner in which the President has treated the late rebels, and his position on reconstruction, has given them courage and hope that they can again obtain their former political power. To this Congress presents the only barrier, and we hope that barrier will never be removed until the proper constitutional restraints are placed upon the future action of northern and southern "democrats", both as regards the vital financial affairs of the Government and country, but in support of the rights of the colored population.

To secure these rights of the freedmen and these barriers against assault upon the national credit, mere State pledges or enactments will not do. These may be made one year, and unmade the next. The Southern leaders are quite ready to make any pledge or promise required of them, or to commit any piece of hypocrisy which may seem effectual, if thereby they can once more be placed in a situation to obtain, by the aid of their dear northern allies, controlling political power. State action or State promises will not do. They afford no security for the future. Congress ought to insist upon constitutional guaranties, before a single State is re-admitted to representation. The people—who are in earnest in this matter—will demand this at their hands—will support them in the course which they have thus far so nobly pursued.

As to the exact form which these constitutional amendments may take, the people are indifferent. It is no forms to which they look. Let the principle be attained, and they are satisfied—whether this is that form of amendment be adopted.

Mr. Blaine's amendment in regard to the basis of representation, just defeated, was on first thoughts approved by most of the people—and yet upon further reflection, it does seem open to Mr. Sumner's objection, of recognizing and endorsing, in the Constitution itself, the principle that a State may of right exclude a man from suffrage on account of his color—and no true Republican ought to admit this. The substitute which has been offered by Mr. Sumner himself, appears to obviate this, but may be objectionable in other respects.

Two or three other amendments are necessary, in order that the Union may be properly and safely reconstructed.

In the Senate on the 14th, a resolution was introduced instructing the Judiciary Committee to report five resolutions of amendments to the Constitution:

1st. Basing representation on voters.
2d. Basing direct tax on value of property.
3d. Pledging the faith of Government to the redemption of National bills.
4th. Prohibiting payment of the rebel debt.
5th. Prohibiling the payment for slaves.

The first will be opposed by New England and the other old States, from its unfair operation in favor of the West; but Mr. Sumner's proposition, as we have said, may meet this and other objections. The other propositions above named are unobjectionable, right, and necessary, and with one more, giving a constitutional guaranty for the civil rights of all the people, they would constitute a sufficient bond for the future good behavior of the recent rebel States, and their representatives might be safely admitted.

We trust that Congress will not long delay in framing some single comprehensive scheme of amendment, embracing all that the Republican party now deems essential to secure the cause of Equal Rights from future rebellion—that they will present to the people an affirmative proposition which everybody can understand, and upon it, let the President either agree or take issue with Congress. The people know what they want in the matter of principle; but they do not wish to be confused by a multiplicity of single propositions thrown into Congress, many of which they do not and cannot clearly understand in all their bearings and consequences. They are ready to stand by Congress in maintaining Equal Rights, and in securing future Republican Government for this country—but they desire that Congress should present the issue clearly before the country.

Order passed for discontinuance of part of Pore and Independent Streets.

A communication from the City Clerk in relation to the duties of Ward Clerks, &c., was referred to the next City Council.

The business having been completed, and messages passed that each board was ready to adjourn without day, the following complimentary proceedings took place.

In Board of Aldermen, on motion of S. P. Bradbury,

Resolved, That we cordially tender our sincere thanks to the President of this Board for the prompt energetic and impartial manner in which he has presided over our deliberations.

That in Hon. S. H. Dale we have had a Mayor whose energy and enterprise are well worthy his constituents.

That to his watchful and untiring zeal are the wounded, weary and battle-worn heroes of the late war, and many poor and unfortunate, indebted for timely and liberal aid.

That as he goes out he bears our best wishes for his future prosperity.

The motion was seconded by S. D. Thurston, who said:

With pleasure I second the motion of the gentleman from Ward Five. We have come to the close of a municipal year. The labors of this branch of the City government are at an end. I will hope that all of us have the consciousness, that in performing the duties which have devolved upon us, we have sought not our own but the public good. Meagre indeed is the reward the servants of the city receive unless the consciousness of having faithfully labored is theirs. The fact of rendering faithful service unpaid gives far greater satisfaction than orders on the City Treasury without such fact.

Associated as we have been as members of this Board, we part with regret; as citizens we meet with pleasure.

Mr. Clerk: I remember that he for whom this resolution was especially introduced has been at the head of this municipality for the past three years and that by his own wish, expressed before our annual election for city officers, he returns to private life and pursuits.

As the record of his three years of service is nearly closed, we may speak in judgment upon it. Our verdict is in a few words: He has been a faithful servant. He has sought to do his duty; that duty has been well done. The verdict of his fellow citizens has been already pronounced in a few words not unfrequently uttered, viz: "He has been a good Mayor." That verdict we heartily endorse. His duties have been unusually arduous—far greater than common responsibilities have rested upon him.

His loyalty, his quickness of perception and action, his persistent labor for the advancement of public interests, his constant watch over the various "departments of affairs," have all been tested, and have not been found wanting. In short, he has made his mark in the history of our city, to be seen in several important improvements, in the adornment of public places, and to be felt in matters of equal value, which the eye cannot see, but to which the mind gives consent.

Why should I say more. Parting words should be few. Our best wishes should go with him as he retires from "official position." We wish for him health of body and mind, prosperity in business, happiness in the domestic circle, the continued and increased respect of his fellow citizens, the ability and the will to continue to aid in and to plan for new enterprises, to promote the public welfare and the advancement of business interests in this community. In brief, we wish him abundance of temporal favor, and more—the favor of God.

Mayor Dale responded as follows:

Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen:

The hour of our separation is at hand: how faithfully we have fulfilled the promise made at the commencement of this municipal year, each must answer for his individual action to his own conscience, whose munitions for those actions, for good or ill will be his praise or his blame.

We cannot, if we would, recall the past, but so far as we have strove to advance the interest of the city, the welfare of its people, without partiality or favor, or prejudice or reward, but have acted for the common good of the common whole. So far we have been true to our obligations; and where we have failed of this high purpose our constituents have cause to complain, and do well when they vacate our seats at this honorable Board.

I thank you, Mr. Alderman, most heartily, for the spirit of the resolution just offered, and for the kind words said at these closing hours, and in a retrospective view, while it has been my pleasure to be at the municipal head, I have reason to believe that on retiring from office, no one of our people will say but that, in all this time, I have endeavored to do my duty, having in view the interest of the city, and where I have failed, it will be ascribed to error of judgment.

Aldermen—The year on which we entered has closed the terrible war then on our hands. Grateful to an overruling Providence for our success, and to the strong hearts and arms of our people, we are reminded that the duties growing out of this conflict have made our labors more onerous and perplexing, while it has called out all the charities, the loyalty and good feeling that should exist, especially at this conservative branch of the City government. And now that we are to separate, some to retire, others to return to this Board, let me invoke on each, in whatever path we are called, a conscientious discharge of duty, a disposition to promote the future welfare and interest of our city.

For your uniform kindness and courtesy towards your presiding officer, allow me to tender you my sincere thanks, and if any act or word of mine has caused unpleasant feelings in any one, let me assure you it was but an honest difference of opinion, which the occasion and the question must solve, and before we separate I know you will excuse.

And as we now adjourn, you will accept my best wishes for your health and prosperity.

In Common Council, H. B. Williams offered the following:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Board are due, and are hereby given, to Nathan S. Perkins, Esq., for the courteous, efficient and impartial manner in which he has presided over its deliberations during the past municipal year.

Mr. President—

It gives me pleasure on this occasion to express to you my approbation of the able and satisfactory manner in which you have presided over this boby during the past year, and I am certain that I express the sentiments of each and every member of this Council, when I say that you have performed the duties of your office with dignity and honor to yourself, and with justice and impartiality to this Board. In leaving this branch of the City Government, as I am about to do, you have my best wishes, with many thanks both to you, Sir, and to the members of this Board, for the courtesy with which I have been treated the past year.

Dr. Laughton seconded the resolve, and made some remarks.

Mr. Perkins responded as follows.

Gentlemen of the Common Council:

I tender you my sincere thanks for the kind and generous words with which you have been pleased to notice the manner in which I have discharged my official duties. Called to the chair of this board, with but little of the practice necessary to success as a presiding officer, if I have succeeded at all, it is due more to your gentlemanly and courteous deportment to me and to each other, than to any ability of mine. I congratulate you, gentlemen, that no word has been uttered and nothing has occurred to mar the harmony of your proceedings, and all your deliberations have been marked with fidelity to the best interests of the city.

We have now reached the closing hour of this municipal year, a year which will hold a prominent place in the annals of human affairs. It has witnessed the overthrow of the most stupendous Rebellion known to history, while the proud monarchies of the old world during the progress of the strife looked with astonishment upon a citizen soldiery, transformed into veteran armies, of military powers, and capable of military exploits, not second to those of the most renowned troops of ancient or modern times, they have seen, with even greater amazement, during this year the citizen soldier, the war over, his country saved, again return to his citizenship, to engage in the peaceful pursuits of life.

This year also witnessed the assassination of the Chief Magistrate of the Republic, an event, which we have hardly yet learned to contemplate in any other light than that of calamity to our country. While these events can never be effaced from our memories they will serve to perpetuate the recollection of associations and friendship imperceptibly formed here.

Permit me gentlemen, again to tender you my thanks, and to express a sincere desire for your happiness and prosperity whether in the service of your city and country, in an official capacity, or in the private walks of life.

MUSIC.

I have the pleasure of informing those who were members of SIGNOR BORRA'S Music Class in this city last season, and all who desired to secure a thorough education in Music in the shortest period possible, that he has consented to return, and resume the instruction of Music, under the celebrated "Cheve System," as soon as a sufficient class shall be formed; and it is desirable that the course should commence as soon as possible, for his engagements will make it necessary for him to return to New York early in the fall.

It may be said for the information of those unacquainted with the system of Music taught by Signor Borra, that it is considered much superior to the common mode of teaching, and his pupils obtain a knowledge of Music in a very short time comparatively; and also that the study of Music according to this system is very pleasant and healthy for children as young as ten years, as well as for adults.

NEW YORK, March 17.

The celebration of St. Patrick's Day passed off pleasantly and without the least disturbance. The procession embraced four regiments of militia, and an immense number of Irish charitable societies—all gaily dressed, and each carrying appropriate banners, among which, in one instance, was the flag of the Irish Republic.

The procession was about two hours passing a given point. It was reviewed at the City Hall by Mayor Hoffman and others. After the procession, a meeting of Fenians was held in front of the Headquarters, in Union Square.

The Irishmen turned out en masse today, and and marched to St Lawrence Hall to pay their respects to the Governor General, who was greeted with loud and enthusiastic cheers.

He said he accepted the demonstration as no evidence on their part of loyalty to their sovereign, or attachment to the institutions of their land and as a protest against the principles of wicked men who would disgrace the the name of Irishmen, by desecrating the day of Ireland's patron Saint by a wanton attack on a peaceful, prosperous and happy country. He felt assured that, should the necessity arise, which God forbid, they would back their principles of loyalty with their stout arms.

The procession then marched to Haymarket, where speeches of a loyal and national character, which were enthusiastically applauded.

THE INAUGURATION OF THE NEW CITY GOVERNMENT will take place to-day at City Hall, at 10 A. M.

St. Patrick's Day, (Saturday,) seems to have passed off without the threatened (or expected) Fenian attack upon Canada.—Our own private opinion, is that there has been a good deal more talk than powder in this matter; and we have no doubt that the British government have (as alleged) stimulated a "scare" in the Provinces, in order to drive them to a confederation, perhaps to invite an English prince to a Vice Royal throne, or at least to a Governor Generalship, of all the British Provinces in America. As to the Fenians we have always doubted whether the leaders had any real intentions upon Canada. Still we may be mistaken. If they do make the attempt, it is evident that a warmer reception awaits them than was generally looked for.

STEAMER KATAHDIN. This staunch and favorite steamer of the outside route, arrived at Winterport from Boston, on Friday last, and will leave on her regular trip to-day, at noon we believe. She is still under command of Capt. Johnson, who is justly considered equal in ability and vigilant discharge of duty to any commander on the eastern waters. We hoped to have welcomed the Katahdin to our city in the course of a week—but the extraordinary change in the weather yesterday (the mercury going down to zero in the morning,) makes it improbable that the river will be clear to this point before the first of April. We do not recollect so severe a cold snap in March.

WILLIAM S. MITCHELL,
MICHAEL FINNEGAN,
City Undertakers.

At an adjourned sale of the Wood's hotel property at the Merchants' Exchange yesterday morning, the administrator stated that the right of reservation would be withdrawn at a minimum bid of $75,000. There was no bidding and the property was withdrawn from public sale. It is understood that it will be again offered at private sale.—[Argus.

Yesterday Brooks D. Russel was brought before the Commissioner, charged with feloniously taking from the post office in Weld a letter containing a bank note of $100, and a check for the same amount. He waived an examination, and the case was continued to 10 o'clock Monday, and in default of sureties in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance, he was committed to jail.

Russell was formerly a clerk in the post-office at Weld. He was arrested in Boston and brought to this city by United States Marshal Clark.—[Press.

FATAL ACCIDENT. On the 27th of February, Mr. John Porter, son of Sylvanus and Esther Porter, of this town, was instantly killed, while at work on the Little Wolf River, 70 miles from Dubuque, Wis. He was assisting in loading logs, and holding a lever to prevent some timbers from rolling too far when his foot slipped and he fell. The lever struck the back of his neck, and a log fell immediately upon it, causing instant death.—[Oxford Democrat.

The Grand Trunk Company has been laboring hard to get freight into the States before the Reciprocity Treaty terminated.—An enormous quantity has been collected at Island Pond, to be brought forward at leisure after the rush is over, and the road is very much clogged up in consequence. It will probably be cleared off this week, and trains will be able to run with their former regularity.

Mr. Joseph W. Phipps, formerly of Hampden, has been appointed Postmaster at Fairfax, Lion county, Iowa.

REVIVALS. The Press says:

The reports of religious revivals increase in numbers and interest. We could fill a large page with accounts which come to us from all parts of the country. This very wide-spread religious movement seems to be quite free from excessive excitement, and to be everywhere marked by a great degree of depth and earnestness.

Hon. Thomas Chase of Buckfield, a member of the Maine Senate, died on Tuesday last. He was well known and highly respected, not only in his own county, but in the State at large.

The Philadelphia boot-blacks were recently feasted in style by the Young Men's Christian Association. The supper was given at the "Swathmore Mission" rooms, and the boys "deported themselves with signal decorum."

—Between the 20th of Jan. and 24th of Feb., hardly more than a month, Edmund P. and Elbridania Littlefield, of East Wilton, lost their whole family of four children, from nine to eighteen years of age, by diphtheria.

NEW MUSIC. We have received from Horace Waters, 481 Broadway, N. Y. the following pieces of music:

"Don't marry a man if he drinks."
"The Patter of the Rain."
"Happy Golden Days."
"Sleep my dear One."

—Sergeant J. H. Raymond, Co. A., 3d Maine Regiment, has been awaaded a prize of $20 for best specimen of left-handed penmanship. This is one of the prizes offered by Wm. O. Bourne of New York for competition by soldiers and sailors who had lost their right hand or arm in the service.

REMARKABLE OCCURRENCE. A correspondent of the Hartford Times says he was surprised to meet in Hartford the other day a soldier whom he had helped bury and read the burial service over in Virginia in the fall of 1863. This fellow was in a trance when he was buried, partly dug himself out of his very shallow grave, was discovered by the rebels, helped out and sent to Richmond as prisoner for a year and then to Georgia until the war ended.

—In imitation of the English, our railroads are introducing steel rails. They cost twice as much and will wear ten times as long as the iron. The Hudson River Road has ordered 6000 tons, which will lay about sixty miles of road, and as the iron wears out it is to be replaced by steel.

—A boy who had never been accostomed to work, but had been brought up tenderly by his mother, was put out to a trade; his employer always had breakfast by candle light. The first morning, when the boss went to call his apprentice, he said to him, "Come, Thomas, it is time to get up; the family is about setting down to breakfast." "Thank you," said Tom, turning over to take another nap, "I never eat anything during the night!"

A lady hired a western country girl for a family help, and was surprised to see her poke her head into the parlor one afternoon when visitors were present and ask, 'Marm, did you call just now? I thought I hearn a yell.'

The pompous epitaph of a close-fisted citizen closed with the following passage of Scripture:

"He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." "Dat may be," soliloquised Sambo; "but when dat man died de Lord didn't owe him a red cent!"

PARADISE LOST, AT CONCERT HALL.—It is seldom, if ever that an entertainment, no matter how meritorious it may be, turns hundreds from its doors at each exhibition—yet such is the fact with regard to the Miltonian Tableaux of Paradise Lost, at Concert Hall. The attendance seems to embrace all classes and all ages, and the exhibition pleases every one. As the evening performances are so crowded, we advise the ladies to avail themselves of the matinée, given to accommodate ladies and children.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the above Tableaux, to be found in another column.

REVOLVING GRIDIRON. This little wonder-worker will be exhibited at Bishop, Wood & Co's stove store Nos. 1 2 & 3, Broad St. A steak is broiled in three minutes so perfect that no butter is necessary. No smoke or smell enters the room. Call and see its operation on the celebrated Norombega cooking stove.

The World Harvest.

BY EDITH OAKLEY.

They are sowing their seed in the dawnlight fair,
They are sowing their seed in the noon-day's glare,
They are sowing their seed in the soft twilight,
They are sowing their seed in the solemn night.
What shall the harvest be?

They are sowing the seed of pleasant thought;
In the spring's green light they have blithely wrought;
They have brought their fancies from wood and dell,
Where the mosses creep and the flower-buds swell.
Rare shall the harvest be.

They are sowing their seed of word and deed,
Which the cold know not, nor the careless heed;
Of the gentle word and the kindly deed
They have blessed the heart in its direst need.
Sweet will the harvest be.

And some are sowing the seed of pain,
Of late remorse and maddened brain;
And the stars shall fail, and the sun shall wane,
Ere they root the weeds from the soil again.
Dark will the harvest be.

And some are standing with idle hand,
Yet they scatter seed on their native land;
And some are sowing the seed of care,
Which their soil hath borne, and still must bear.
Sad will the harvest be.

They are sowing their seed of noble deed,
With a sleepless watch and an earnest heed;
With a careless hand o'er the earth they sow,
And the fields are whitening where'er they go.
Rich will the harvest be.

Sown in darkness, or sown in light,
Sown in weakness, or sown in might,
Sown in meekness, or sown in wrath,
In the broad world field, or the shadowy path,
Sure will the harvest be.

"I Thought It Was My Mother's Voice."

A friend told me, not long ago, a beautiful story about kind words. A good lady, living in one of our large cities, was passing a drinking saloon as the keeper was thrusting a young man out into the street. He was very young and very pale, but his haggard face and wild eyes told that he was far gone in the road to ruin, as with an oath he brandished his clenched fists, threatening to be revenged on the man who ill-used him. This poor young man was so excited and blinded with passion that he did not see the lady who stood very near to him, until she laid her hand upon his arm, and spoke in her gentle, loving voice, asking him what was the matter.

At the first kind word the young man started as if a heavy blow had struck him, and turning quickly round, paler than before and trembling from head to foot, he surveyed the lady for a moment, and then, with a sigh of relief, he said:

"I thought it was my mother's voice, it sounded so strangely like it! but her voice has been hushed in death for many years."

"You had a mother, then, and she loved you?" said the lady.

With that sudden revulsion of feeling which often comes to people of fine nervous temperaments, the young man burst into tears, sobbing out "Oh, yes, I had an angel mother, and she loved her boy! But since she died the world has been against me, and I am lost!—lost to good society, lost to decency, and lost forever!"

"No, not lost forever; God is merciful, and his pitying love can reach the chief of sinners," said the lady, in her low, sweet voice; and the timely words swept the hidden chords of feeling which had long been untouched in the young man's heart, thrilling it with magic power, and wakening a host of tender emotions, which had been buried very deep beneath the rubbish of sin and crime.

More gentle words the lady spoke, and when she passed on her way the youth followed her. He marked the house where she entered, and wrote the name which was on the door-plate in his memorandum book. Then he walked slowly away, with a deep, earnest look on his white face, and a deeper, more earnest feeling in his aching heart.

Years glided by, and the gentle lady had quite forgotten the incident we have related, when one day a stranger sent up his card, and desired to speak with her.

Wondering much who it could be, she went down to the parlor, where found a noble-looking, well-dressed man, who rose deferentially to meet her. Holding out his hand, he said:

"Pardon me, madam, for this intrusion; but I have come many miles to thank you for the great service you rendered me a few years ago," said he in a trembling voice.

The lady was puzzled and asked for an explanation, as she did not remember ever having seen the gentleman before.

"I have changed so much," said the man, "that you have quite forgotten me; but though I only saw your face once, I am sure I should have recognized it anywhere. And your voice, too, it is so like my mother's!"

"These last words made the lady remember the poor young man she had kindly spoken to in front of the drinking saloon so long before, and she mingled her tears with those that were falling over the gentleman's cheeks.

After the first gush of emotion had subsided, the gentleman sat down and told the lady how those few words had been instrumental in saving him and making him what he then was.

"The earnest expression of 'No, not lost forever,' followed me wherever I went," said he, "and it always seemed that it was the voice of my mother, speaking to me from the tomb. I repented of my many transgressions, and resolved to live as Jesus and my mother would be pleased to have me; and by the grace of God I have been enabled to resist temptation and keep my good resolution."

"I never dreamed there was such power in a few words before," exclaimed the lady, "and surely ever after this I shall take more pains to speak them to all the sad and suffering ones I meet in the walks of life.—[Sunny Faces.

TESTING HER INNOCENCE.—The following touching scene recently occurred in a Parisian court of justice:—

A poor, pale, wan seamstress, was arraigned for theft. She appeared at the bar with a baby of eleven or twelve months in her arms, her child. She went to get some work one day, and stole as was supposed three gold coins of 10f. each. The money was missed soon after she left, and a servant was sent to her rooms to claim it. The servant found her about to quit her rooms with the three coins in her hand. She said to the servant, "I was going to carry them back to you." Nevertheless she was carried to the commissioner of police, and he ordered her to be sent before the police court for trial. She was too poor to engage a lawyer, and when asked by the judge what she had to say for herself, she answered: "The day I went to my employers, I carried my child with me. It was in my arms as it is now. I was not paying attention to it. There were several gold coins on the mantel-piece, and unknown to me, it stretched out its little hand and seized three pieces, which I did not observe until I got home. I at once put on my bonnet and was going back to my employer to return them, when I was arrested. This is the solemn truth, as I hope for Heaven's mercy."

The court could not believe this story. They dobranded the mother for her impudence in endeavoring to palm off such a manifest lie for the truth. They besought her for her own sake to retract so shameful a tale, for it could have no effect, but oblige the court to sentence her to much severer punishment than they would willingly inflict upon one so young and apparently destitute in poverty. These appeals had no effect, except to strengthen the poor mother's unanimous adherence to her original story. As this firmness contrasted so strongly with the innocence which the most adroit criminal can never counterfeit, the court were at some loss to discover what decision justice commended. To relieve their embarassment one of the judges proposed to renew the scene described by the mother. Three gold coins were placed on the clerk's table. The mother was requested to assume the position in which she said she stood at her employer's house. There was then a breathless pause in the court. The baby soon discovered the bright coin, eyed it for a moment, smiled, and then stretched forth its tiny hand and clutched them in its fingers with a miser's eagerness. The mother was acquitted.

THE WALDENSES IN ITALY.—The Theological school of the Waldenses has been removed from Piedmont to Florence. Dr. De Sanctis, formerly curate in Rome, but now now a Protestant and a popular preacher, is to give a course of lectures on the school. Among the pupils is a young Turk about nineteen years of age, from Constantinople. He had obtained a copy of the Bible in his native language, and becoming forcibly struck with the difference between the character and teachings of Jesus and those of Mahommed, and falling in with a priest, came with him to Rome. Here, however, he met with difficulty in conforming to the religious rites, on account of image worship, and soon forsook Rome for Florence and the school of the Waldenses.

We are indebted to Harper's for the following fact:

A farmer from Hudson, Ohio, recently came to Cleveland to see the sights, leaving his better half at home to look after the cattle and poultry. Among the little keepsakes which he brought back to his wife from the city was his own photograph.—"Oh! these men! these men! what creatures they are!" exclaimed the old lady, upon receiving it; "to think that husband should fetch a picture all the way from town, of himself, and be so thoughtless as not to fetch one of me at the same time!"

DR. KNIGHTS'

Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey, and others, who, in the sere and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. Dr. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.

PRICE 75 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

Notice to the Public!

In the year 1846, the writer embarked in Business in the city of Philadelphia, and commenced, made several experiments, and tried most desirable modes of preparing Hair Dye. My efforts being successful, the article became proved and used by the Medical Faculty, and desirous of placing them before the public, I commenced advertising. Some time before the public had newspaper advertising, I know no other dye existed in the minds of many, but those advertised. Medical or Non-Medical, but through the aid of friends and those who had used the dye, the prejudice was overcome.

After 18 years exertion, I commenced to extend it in every way, the popularity of my article increased, and in all parts of the United States, and widely throughout foreign countries—and the result, in spite of opposition. Every means has been resorted to by unprincipled dealers and their agents, to imitate, have been known—such as advertising larger bottles at less price, counterfeiting other preparations, and even copying my advertisements, I am happy to state that out of the many [illegible] sorted to this, none have been successful.

MY OBJECT

In this notice is to make friends with the public and respectable dealers, profiting, after many years' exertions, that the Drug trade will discontinue such proceedings, and that the repute of my articles may not be damaged by the use of inferior or spurious ones.

Knowing that many may read this who are unacquainted with me, I append a few testimonials from those of my native city, and where I am known in all parts of the world.

"Being personally acquainted with Mr. Helmbold, it affords me pleasure to state I have been most favorably impressed with his character for integrity, and gratified at his success.

W. M. WILLIAMSON,
Firm of Powers & Weightman,
Ninth and Brown streets, Philadelphia."

(Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia)

"When on a visit to the city of New York a few days since, I was induced to call on our fellow citizen and townsman, Mr. H. T. Helmbold, of the Broadway, New York. His store is a splendid affair, perfect Gem—the handsomest of any Kind we saw—having 24 feet front, five stories in height and [illegible] feet deep. It indeed affords us much pleasure to know that he has been so successful, and a fair example of the merits of his articles, and the whole business experience we have [illegible] the success of any articles sent out by Mr. Helmbold, using merely bringing the name [illegible]

(Boston Herald)

"We do not like to advertise worthless nostrums, articles calculated to deceive our readers, yet when we see an advertiser like Mr. Helmbold, an article have known for years, gradually extend its business from year to year until he becomes one of the most advertisers in the United States, we are sure that the statements in regard to his medicines are correct."

The writer reluctantly inserts the above, as he would not do so were he [illegible] a stranger to him, and concludes by stating the names of his medicines and the diseases for which they have been used by many thousands with complete success.
